WHO'S IN CHARGE—Patients Abusing their Practitioners for Prescription Drugs

5 Warning Signs of Prescription Drug Abuse

- 1. Increase in prescription drug use
The drugs they are taking are no longer working as effectively, so they may increase the dose without first consulting a doctor.
- 2. Change in personality
The afflicted may isolate themselves from loved ones or withdraw from social interaction entirely.
- 3. More excuses for prescriptions
Most addicted persons will complain of additional ailments to gain more prescriptions.
- 4. Forgetfulness
Someone who is addicted to prescription drugs is more likely to be increasingly absentminded and inattentive, given his or her lethargy.
- 5. Defensiveness
An addict will commonly dispute any claim of reliance on his or her prescription medications and may lash out at his or her accuser.

Prescription Monitoring Program

The prescription monitoring program collects prescription data for Schedule II through Schedule V drugs into a central database, Connecticut Prescription Monitoring and Reporting System (CPMRS), which can then be used by providers and pharmacists in the active treatment of their patients.

The purpose of the CPMRS is to present a complete picture of a patient's controlled substance use, including prescriptions by other providers, so that the provider can properly manage the patient's treatment, including the referral of a patient to services offering treatment for drug abuse or addiction when appropriate.

The Connecticut state legislature passed a law in 2007 that requires information about all transactions for controlled substances (Schedule II-V) dispensed in Connecticut to be reported to the State of Connecticut Department of Consumer Protection Prescription Monitoring Program. Pharmacies -- both in and out of state -- will submit data twice per month. The data is then cleaned if needed, and added to a relational database.

For more information please call (860) 713-6073 or e-mail us at DCP_prescriptions@ct.gov.

Disclaimer: The CPMRS receives data twice per month from dispensing pharmacies. Therefore, the data within the database may not be accurate or complete. For more information about any prescription, please contact the dispensing pharmacy or the prescriber.
